Aims and Scope

The Journal of "Blood Banking and Transfusion Medicine" (ISSN 1304-2718) is published quarterly (January, April, July, October) by Deomed Medical Publishing Services for the Blood Banks and Transfusion Society of Türkiye, and considers the publication of original manuscripts dealing with important and novel developments in the fast growing field of transfusion medicine. In addition reviews, case reports, original articles of clinical and laboratory trials as well as papers dedicated to more practical aspects covering new devices and techniques will be published. Reviews from authors are invited. All contributions, coming from all over the world undergo the peer-review process guided by international editors of the highest scientific level. Articles are sought which emphasize research especially in the fields of, but by no means limited to; organization, quality management, promotion of voluntary blood transfusion, safety of blood, epidemiology of infectious factors transmitted by transfusion, haemovigilance, new trends in biotechnology, clinical subjects of haemotherapy.
